

DEAR NEW WIFE DESIRER;

Do not forget that what happens in room 1 should not be discussed in room 2,3 or 4, so what happens in different rooms should end there except under a necessity.

Don't mistakenly take the gift intended for room 2 into room 1 or room 3 into room 4 and vice versa.

Use low tone when in the different rooms.

Admonish anyone found in a wrong personality in her room and end it there. Avoid relating how you admonished each of them in their different rooms.

Avoid praising one of them in the room of the others.

Admonish them generally with the fear of Allah without mentioning any of their names.

Select a day to hold a sitting of knowledge if you are learned enough to teach them. If not, endure; they attend a sitting of knowledge once a week. Combining the two is however a good choice too, hearing admissions from outside sink in their hearts than yours.

May Allah bless our homes!
